Add your values

Recognition lets you really live your company values by tagging every shout-out, poll and reward. That way your team can see exactly how their achievements are helping the business reach its goals.

TRY THIS!

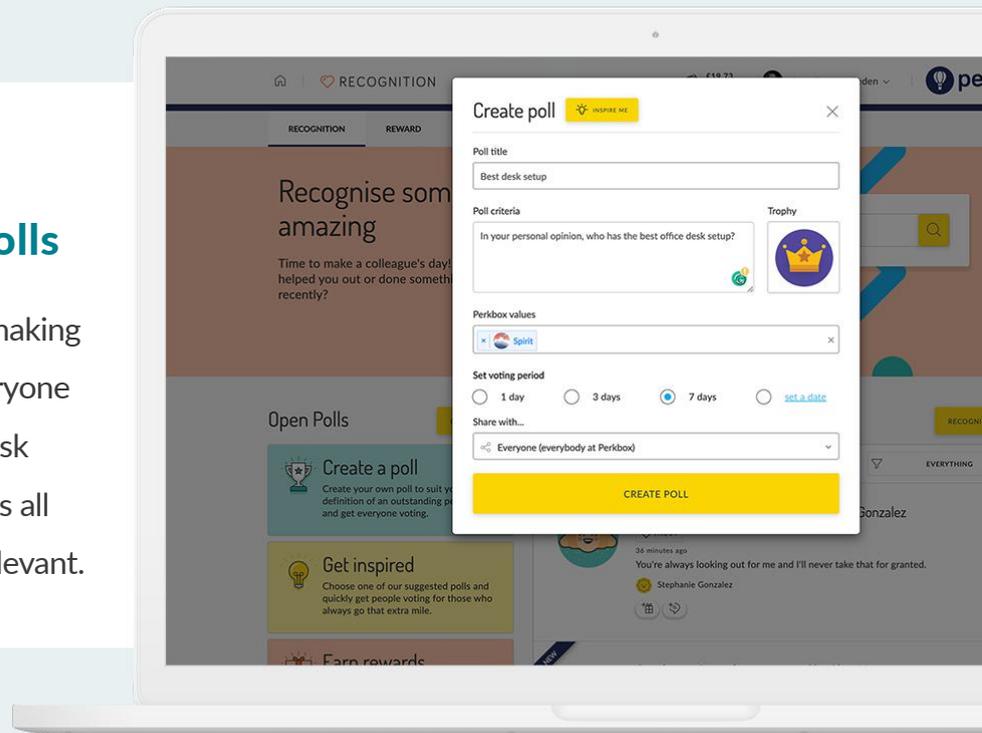

Surprise your team with rewards

Here's a fun way to encourage your team to recognise each other more. Get a list of everyone who's shouted out a colleague and pick a few at random each week. Send them a surprise reward to say thanks. Soon everyone will be getting involved!

TRY THIS!

Get creative with polls

Keep everyone engaged by making your polls more fun. Get everyone voting on things like “best desk setup” and “tastiest lunch”. It’s all about keeping it fresh and relevant.

Start at the top!

Show your employees how it’s done! Make sure your managers are regularly recognising people from their teams. It won’t just make people feel valued – it’ll set an example for the rest of the business. Just watch the recognitions start rolling in!
